

Attention U.S. Citizen Voters:

The U.S. Department of State (DoS) and the Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP) need your help to make absentee/overseas voting easier for you.

Voting is the right of U.S. citizens everywhere. However, we recognize the challenges faced by U.S. voters abroad who want to exercise this right. DoS and our partner, FVAP, want to know about your voting experience so we can take concrete steps to improve the process.

Please click the link below to access a survey that asks you about your voting experience — even if you have never actually voted overseas. The information you provide now will help us improve the voting experience for overseas U.S. citizens in the future. The survey does not require you to provide any personally identifiable information. We'll keep all responses confidential.

This survey is sponsored by FVAP in accordance with Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 8910.01, and has been approved and licensed by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). If you have any questions or comments about the this Post-Election Survey, or are experiencing technical issues accessing the survey, please call 1-800-438-VOTE or send an email to vote@fvap.gov. You can also visit the FVAP website at <http://www.fvap.gov> for additional information on the overseas voting process.

Thank you very much for taking our survey — we look forward to seeing the results.
